Executive Procurement Recommendation

Rather than issuing a disruptive RFP or transitioning to a new carrier and risking a severe 70% to 100% price spike on American Sign Language, your optimal strategy is to execute an in-contract renegotiation directly with Voiance using their parent company's recent merger as leverage. Propio Language Services acquired CyraCom International (Voiance's parent) and is currently consolidating accounts onto its centralized telephony backbone. Because standard enterprise interpretation calls average 11 to 12 minutes, Voiance's continuous $0.18/minute third-party dial-out surcharge frequently adds $2.00 to $2.20 per interaction, whereas Propio charges a single flat fee of $0.99 per outbound connection. By requesting an account pricing update that aligns your agreement with Propio's standard catalog—securing their $0.55/minute Spanish OPI rate and $0.99 flat dial-out fee while strictly grandfathering your rare $0.85/minute rate for ASL and non-Spanish languages—your organization secures immediate 35% savings on your highest-volume interactions without incurring implementation costs, staff re-training, or ASL rate inflation.
